

Anti-evolution Harun Yahya Stand At The Burj Dubai

Reuters' "FaithWorld" blog carried an analysis of developments prior to Darwin Day by senior religious affairs correspondent Tom Heneghan. The article in question reported the opening of a stand displaying books and documentaries by Harun Yahya at the Burj Dubai mall, housed in the world's tallest skyscraper:

"Speaking of Darwin, we've done several posts about the Turkish anti-Darwin campaigner Harun Yahya and his Islamic creation[i]st campaign against evolution. Most of the attention on this has been on his mega-book *Atlas of Creation, how it's being distributed in Europe and what the reaction to it has been.

... an anti-evolution stand they've set up in the mall at the Burj Dubai skyscraper in Dubai. We're bound to hear a lot more about Darwin, evolution and faith this year.."

The Harun Yahya stand opened in the Burj Dubai Mall, the world's largest shopping center.
