Turkey is with Libya

Published: 9/16/2011

Turkish Prime Minister Recep Tayyip Erdogan said Friday that Turkey will be with Libya in meeting needs in all fields, including politics, military, economy, commerce, infrastructure and superstructure.

Speaking at a joint press conference with Chairman Mustafa Abdel Jalil of Libya's National Transitional Council (NTC), Erdogan said that Turkey will be hand in hand and shoulder to shoulder with the brotherly people of Libya in meeting their needs.

Adnan Oktar: ... WE SHARE THE ONE GOD, ONE BOOK, ONE QIBLA AND ONE EVERYTHING. WE BELIEVE IN THE SAME PROPHETS, WE LOVE THE SAME ANGELS, THE DIVISION BETWEEN US IS ENTIRELY ARTIFICIAL. PEOPLE MAY BE OF DIFFERENT ISLAMIC SCHOOLS AND BE OF DIFFERENT FAMILIES, BUT WE STILL LOVE ONE ANOTHER. WE ARE FRIENDS AND BROTHERS.

Abu Dhabi TV, 19 February 2009

Adnan Oktar: Syria wants to unite with Turkey, and so does Iraq. And if Syria and Iraq want it, so will everyone else. Azerbaijan wants it, and Armenia wants to unite with Turkey. Georgia wants it, so what else needs to be done? It is a union that will also include Lithuania. IT WILL BE A UNION THAT INCLUDES LITHUANIA, ARMENIA, GEORGIA, AZERBAIJAN, KYRGYZSTAN, TURKMENISTAN AND EAST TURKESTAN AND ALL OF THEM. IT WILL REACH AS FAR AS LIBYA. A TURKISH-ISLAMIC UNION WILL EMERGE THAT STRETCHES AS FAR AS THE COAST AND INTERIOR OF AFRICA. Turkey has prior experience, experience from the Ottoman Empire. And this time round, the errors of the Ottomans will not be repeated. The perfect aspects of the Ottomans will be adopted, but not their errors or deficient aspects, and a perfect union will result.
