

"Removing visas with Mongolia would have no effect without the loving energy of the system of the Mahdi..."

DIDEM URER: Prime Minister Erdogan, who went to Mongolia to pay a formal state visit, was welcomed by his Mongolian counterpart with an official ceremony. The Prime Minister's first visit was regarding visas; visas are to be removed with Mongolia through a remittance agreement. In addition, our Prime Minister was greeted by mounted and cavalry troops representing Genghis Kahn's army in the escort of honor.

ADNAN OKTAR: Yes. Now visas are removed with Mongolia; let's remove passports as well. But no one would go there. There would be no visits either from here to there or the other way around. There is no energy at the moment, no energy of love. There is no energy of the system of the Mahdi. Otherwise visa remittance; let's say that the Turkic countries are united. Let's sign it and the men would say, "Fine thank you." There would be no movement. There would be no movement at all. So now visas are removed and all of Mongolia will come here? Are we going to go there? Nothing would happen. Love for human beings as a result of love of Allah must spread throughout the world. This could only happen through the system of the Mahdi, the miracles of the Qur'an and the signs leading to faith. Otherwise do anything you like, remove passports, remove visas, open the borders; everyone would stay put. Love is a must. Compassion is a must. (Adnan Oktar, April 11th, 2013: A9 TV)
