

Superiority Comes From Character, Not Race

The Muslim Journal is published on a quarterly basis by The Muslim Youth League of Guyana. Its aim is to increase the Islamic knowledge of Guyanese Muslims, to bring them news about the world of Islam and to keep Guyanese people overseas well informed about Muslim affairs in Guyana. The Muslim Journal reaches over 30 countries worldwide, and is the only Islamic Magazine in Guyana.

Harun Yahya's article "Superiority Comes From Character, not Race" published in the Oct/Nov., 2001, issue of the magazine states that "all human beings are created the same and in Allah's sight, the only superiority is a person's character, his avoiding all types of sin and rebellion, degeneracy, and deviation and the superior morality deriving from his piety."

Harun Yahya is a pen name used by Adnan Oktar, a prominent Turkish intellectual born in 1956. Oktar started his intellectual struggle in 1979 at Mimar Sinan University's Academy of Fine Arts, where he carried out detailed research into the prevalent materialistic philosophies and ideologies around him. His dedicated intellectual effort against Darwinism and materialism has grown out to be a worldwide phenomenon.
